R. I. S. E. Program

Professionally trained law enforcement officers offer a free and confidential security survey of your home and offer tips on how to make your home more secure.

Another very beneficial tool in combating theft is by maintaining an inventory of your valuables, including their serial numbers. Officer Accardi says that this system is an effective way to recovering items that have been reported stolen.

Neighborhood E-mail Warning System "NEWS"

The N.E.W.S. alert (see attachment) is a database kept at the precinct with a list of anyone who wishes to participate by providing their name and email.

When criminal activity is being experienced in our neighborhood or an adjacent neighborhood an email will be sent out reflecting that information and what to look out for. Each person listed in their database will also receive a quarterly newsletter. Read information below.

Central County Precinct Neighborhood E-mail Warning System

The Central County Precinct is asking all our current E-mail contacts, our neighborhood watch coordinators, and any member of our extended police family to get involved and assist in our group effort. Simply go next door to your neighbor or call a personal friend in the neighborhood and ask them if they are on the "NEWS" list for the St. Louis County Police Department.

You ask, what is the "NEWS" list? This is the Neighborhood E-mail Warning System. Anytime there is a serious criminal offense that you or your family needs to be alerted to in your neighborhood or a surrounding neighborhood you will receive an e-mail alert from the St. Louis County Police Department. In addition, you will receive quarterly newsletters updating you regarding the activities in your precinct, such as the citizen police academy, town hall meetings, and the next neighborhood watch meeting locations.

What we need is your E-mail address, the subdivision you reside in, and your name or an emergency contact number should you choose to provide it. Your name, E-mail address, and the subdivision where you reside are essential to distributing this important information. Any information you provide will remain private and never be distributed.

Contact your Neighborhood Watch Block Captain and ask to have your e-mail added to your subdivision's contact list.
